TALKIN’ HEMP IN THE FIELD is a series of webinars to help farmers as they work on the field. Please join us at the comfort of your home/truck/tractor/barn for hemp information sharing and the latest updates on hemp production requirements in Indiana. You can join sessions from your computer or phone. All sessions are from 11am - 12 noon, EDT

These sessions are going to be farmer focused so as to allow you to get answers to practical issues specific to your operations. It is also to provide an opportunity to get lingering questions on the complex supply chain requirements of hemp production answered, including updates on insurance and hemp processing. Each session will last for one hour with at least 20 minutes reserved for questions and sharing of ideas.

May 5: State of Hemp in Indiana—Policies, Regulations, Seed, pesticides and ISDA Hemp plans
   Don Robison, Seed Administrator, OISC & Seed Commissioner

May 12: Hemp Fiber and CBD Production and Crop Insurance 101
   Marty Mahan, Indiana Farmers Union, Hemp Chapter President
   Michael Peters, Founder/CEO, Full Spectrum Insurance

May 19: Biomass Supply Chain and Processing Updates
   Dr. Yebo Li, HempRise - A Global Leader in Botanical Extracts

May 26: Overview of 2019/20 Hemp Production in Indiana
   Marguerite Bolt, Purdue Hemp Extension Specialist

Registration
Registration is required to participate. Please RSVP with Clark County Extension anytime before and during the series. Have an email address ready so you can be put on the communication list. Call the Extension office 812-256-4591 to register or email Simon Kafari (skafari@purdue.edu).

Purdue University is an equal access/equal opportunity Institute