

2017 AAS Landscape Design Challenge

Theme for 2017: Foodscaping: Interspersing Edibles in the Ornamental Garden

We challenge you to create an attractive garden where AAS Edible Winners are interspersed with AAS Ornamental Winners. Use your creativity to spark the imagination of your garden's visitors: show them that edible gardens do not need to be confined to the backyard!

Criteria for Judging:

- 20% Quantity of AAS Winners used
- 20% Overall attractiveness of landscape design
- 20% Creative use of AAS Winners and signage
- 20% Promotion of the display to local media and garden visitors
- 20% Photo quality and design description/explanation

Who can Enter?

Any official AAS Display Garden!

Contest Rules:

- Application must list all AAS Winners incorporated into design
- Minimum of 50% of the total landscaped area must be AAS Winners and labeled with variety name, AAS Winner designation, and if possible the AAS logo
- There are required photographs that must be submitted digitally
- Local publicity is required
- Contest is open to current year plantings only

Winners will be announced in October 2017 and be awarded an "AAS Landscape Design Award" certificate
