

What's Happening at Harrison County Purdue Extension?

Bread Lab!

4-H Youth Development Educator, Rebecca Wilkins, and Health and Human Sciences Educator, Annette Lawler, provided Morgan Elementary students in grades 3rd through 5th with a very hands-on Bread Lab Class.

Yeast... It's ALIVE! Students learn how yeast is a micro-organism with this fun experiment.

Students who participated in this Bread Lab learned about the chemistry of bread making. Rebecca and Annette also discussed what gluten is, if yeast really is alive, and how self-rising flour works. By the end of class, the students had made delicious yeast bread.
